PROFILE

As a lifelong artist, I find myself drawn to bold and vibrant visuals and styles, heavy textures and clear typography when needed to communicate. My work often has visual notes of grunge, pop or alternative looks laced through its composition. I often mix traditional media with digital, real textures against digital shapes. Most of my work consists of illustrative-focused products such as posters, paintings, and designs fit for stickers or other applied deliverables.

I work to create beautiful and striking imagery in my day-to-day efforts, typically independently. Larger efforts for, such as designing the visual guidelines for a string of works, I prefer to work with a small team in order to balance the workload of components in an efficient way and complete the full set on time.
